THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, MAY 2, 1877.

In continuation of our resumé of the Reports for 1875 on Trade at the Treaty Ports in China, published by order of the Inspector-General of Customs, we deal to-day with the home, or coasting trade of China, carried on in foreign other nations. This trade forms a very important feature in the commerce of the empire, and gives employment to more than three times the amount of tonnage engaged in the direct carrying trade between China and foreign countries. The trade consists in taking native produce from one port to another for either subsequent re-shipment abroad or for local consumption, and in distributing the foreign imports from Shanghai to, principally, Ningpo and the northern and stopped, the Chinese would very soon Yangtsze ports. Hongkong is, of course, get as much of the drug as they wanted regarded as a foreign port. The value of the outward coast trade at all the Treaty Ports-that is, of goods sent from one port to another-amounted during the year to Tls. 109,747,416, of which Tle. 56,417,417 represented indigenous exports, Tls. 15,210,269 native re-exports and Tls 36,119,730 foreign re-exports. THE "bloated aristocracy" of Siam appear to be making very laudable efforts to render themselves generally useful Our Bangkok contemporary states that Mr Clunis, the King's Civil Architect has a large number of young noblemen, at stipulated wages, moulding cornices and ornaments for the royal palace buildings, the like of which Siamese have been accustomed order from China. A Prince is also employed in superintending certain works intended for exhibition at the international exposition in France next year. We noticed the fact a few weeks ago that the Bangkolem corres-Goods per Argentino undelivered after pondent of a San Francisco paper had prophecied that the Siamese people would "loom up suddenly some day eclipse even the more advanced nations of the earth by their progress and development," The Siamese aristocracy are evidently already ahead of their European compeers, and we are sorry we treated the prophecy of this correspondent so lightly at the time.

THE OPIUM QUESTION AT HOME.

Our London correspondent furnishes us with an interesting account of the proceedings at the Chinese Legation in London on the occasion of a Deputation from the Anti-Opium Society waiting upon their Excellencies Kuo and Liu, to this treaty stipulates that all the Scoloo express their views on the opium question and to elicit the opinions of the Representatives of China in return. The interview was certainly of an original character and is of considerable importance in its bearing upon the subject. The speakers on behalf of the Deputation did not disguise their suspicions that the Chinese Government was not taking quite such vigorous steps to put down opium smoking as might be wished—an omission for which Kuo pleaded only some very general excuses; while in return His Excellency pointed out that it was impossible to do away with the the proposed rates for the future. Chief opium traffic, as if England withdrew inspectors of machinery at present £1.5s. from the trade other nations would soon per day; it is proposed to increase them to be found to enter so lucrative and profitable a field. These two points would seem conclusive to most people as to the impossibility of any good being effected by the action of a body like the Anti- day for each year's service beyond twenty. Opium Society, however laudable their Very small increases are proposed in the intentions may be upon purely philanthrophic grounds. Nor does it appear from the report of the proceedings that the Chinese Envoy was very enthusiastic upon the subject. Most certainly, if he were, he would have refrained from stating the very best point for the Home Government to make in favour of continuing the trade upon its present basis and it is almost impossible to avoid the conclusion that the expressions which were given utterance to fairly represented the phase which the subject either has The Manufactory is under direct and already assumed or is likely to assume, on the question being discussed at home between the Chinese Representative and our Government, whatever the abstract merits of the case may be, so soon as the matter becomes reduced to a practical issue, it becomes evident that nothing can be done. No doubt under the circumstances the Chinese Minister wi see the benefit of treating it rather in its financial than its humanitarian aspect, and will probably get an extra duty allowed, as the Government will not be disposed to have any dispute whatever on so unpopular a subject. This at least seems to be the logical conclusion from what has taken place at the Legation in London. The interview was certainly in no way encouraging to those who wish to see the use of opium put down. prospect is held out of this being done by the action of the Chinese Government. and it is made only too clear that so long as China wants Opium from abroad, it will be able to obtain it from one country or another. The paragraph which we published last night, stating that a Portuguese Company has been formed with the view of growing opium in Mozambique, shows pretty conclusively that

March, Mr Stewart asked if it is the case that there is an Act now waiting for the Royal Assent, passed by the Government in Queensland, for the purpose of restricting the immigration of Chinese coolies into that colony; and, if so, whether Her Majesty's Government would consent to the same?—Mr J. Lowther (Under-Secretary for the Colonies) said that a Bill had been passed by the Government of Queensland on the subject, but that it did not profess on the face of it to restrict Chinese immigration. But Her Majesty would not be advised to assent to it, as some of the provisions were objectionable.

Hamburg, March 20th. - In order to contribute as much as possible to the abolition of piracy in China waters, our marine authorities have given orders for the building of a new gunboat, of a special description. To enable this vessel to pursue the Chinese pirate-craft into shallow water, it will be constructed with a so-called false keel, so as to be of exceptionally light draft when the latter is taken up. The vessel will be built by Mr Lohichan at Elbing, at whose establishment many orders have been executed to the full satisfaction of the Marine Board.-I learn upon good authority that the negotiations between Spain and Germany regarding the Sooloo affair have progressed very satisfactorily, and that a treaty on this subject is on the eve of being signed by Spain, Germany, and England. It appears that harbours which are not actually under Spanish control shall be opened for trade to all nations; but in the ports which are already under Spanish authority (flying the Spanish flag) foreign vessels will have to pay certain dues when in harbour. This treaty, of course, will benefit all seafaring nations, and at the same time put an end to the many vexations hitherto experienced. Any damage which may have been done to foreign vessels by Spanish men-of-war in bringing such vessels to, is to be paid in Inspectors of machinery are to be raised to £1 8s.; chief engineers, at present receiving from 12s. to 18s. a day, according to length of service, are to receive from 18s. to £1s. 2s., with an increase of 1s a daily pay of the lower ranks of engineers.

The following officers, whose last term of service was on the China station, have received appointments as under:-Lieutenant A. E. M'Murdo (in the Dwarf from 1874 to 1876) to the Valiant, constguard ship at Foynes; Lieutenant J. P. Pipon (in the Modeste from 1874 to 1877) to the Audacious, flagship, China; Sub-Lieutenant F. A. She is now at Portsmouth, where she will be paid off. Rumours are current as to the successors

It is proposed to begin in one of the new Treaty ports where there has not yet been any Mission. It is to behoped that the matter will be taken up

We understand that the directors of the Austrian Lloyd Steam Company have decided on laying down at their building yard at Trieste two serow steamers of 3,000 tons. They have at present on the stocks one of 2,000 tons, and two small steamers for local service. It is rumoured that the line to Bombay will be shortly extended on to the Straits and China. over the establishment by Lord John Manners, the Post-Master General; and on the evening of the same day they were present at Christ's Hospital and witnessed the public struck; when told that this custom had been maintained for over 300 years, a fact which would somewhat shake the Chinese notion that the outer Barbarian has only commenced to become civilised since he came into contact with the Celestial Empire. They expressed admiration at the dress of the boys and their conduct. They were also present at a reception by Lady Derby at the Foreign-office. and another at Lady Egerton of Tatton's, at the latter of which they met the poet Browning and other celebrities. Kwo has himself gained some laurels as a poet, and expressed great satisfaction at meeting Mr. Browning, with whom he had some conversation through one of his interpreters. Lady Kwo-as she is generally styled—has paid a visit to the kong. Art School for Ladies' Embroidery, where she adjusted one of the frames correctly and embroidered a few stitches. Yesterday the Envoys, accompanied by the Right Hon. R. A. Cross, the Home Secretary, paid a visit to the British Museum.

The Peruvian Congress has authorised the Executive to contract with Olyphant and Co. for the introduction of Chinese labour into Peru, in conformity with the existing treaty between Peru and China, and voted the law granting a yearly subsidy for this purpose of 160,000 soles. Congress, however, with held its sanction of the return of guano and nitrate already agreed upon between the Government and Messrs. Olyphant. It was alleged that the Government would, nevertheless, insist upon its right to carry out the original agreement on the ground that Congress has no power to rescind an executive measure entered upon with the authority of the Legislature. It was urged that Peru must be supplied with labour, which it was believed could only be profitably obtained from China.

May 2, 1877.

ASSAULT. Chan Atip, a bricklayer, was charged by Man Ahee, a shopman, with assualt under the following oircumstances. The complainant was accused by the defendant with stealing some clothing and money to the value of $20, and he had the complainant tled up and beaten, with the view of making him confess where he concealed the things and to restore them. The defendant was fined $5 or 14 days' hard labour.

WHAT OUR COOKS GENERALLY DO.

Lee Akee, a cook to Mr J. D. Humphreys, was charged with stealing beef as follows -The complainant told the defendant to get some beef to make beef-tea for Mrs Humphreys, who was unwell. The complainant went to the kitchen to examine the meat and found it was not good. He saw also a piece of beef which had been bought for beef-steak. He asked the defendant how much it weighed and the defendant said it was 27 lbs. As the piece of meat looked too small for that weight, he took it upstairs for the purpose of testing the weight. He found that it weighed only 1 lb. 13 oz. The defendant then sent up another piece, saying it should have formed part of the original piece, but with this addition, the meat only weighed 2 lbs. 14 oz. The Magistrate-sent for the butchers from whom the defendant bought the meat, and found that he did not have what he represented. He was consequently sent to two months' hard labour.

The culprit was afterwards arrested and housebreaking instruments were found in his nossession.

We learn that the General Agents of the E. and A. He then projected the Pall Mall, Gazette, and the idea was taken up by Messrs Smith, Elder and Co. The Pall Mall Gasette was at first an earnestly Liberal paper, but, though ably written, it was far from a financial success until there appeared in its columns the once colebrated description of a night spent in the casual ward of a metropolitan workhouse. The writer was Fred's brother James—the "Casual," as he has since been called, and afterwards the concoctor of the amusing fiction of a fight between a dwarf and a dog, which was published some years ago as an authentic narrative in the Daily Telegraph. The Casual's paper in the Pall Mall Gazette suddenly elevated that journal to the pinnacle of fame, and raised a very small to a very large circulation. Men and papers, as they get on in the world, often grow Conservative, and with the decline of Gladstone's popularity, the Pall Mall Gazette went over to what at the general election of 1874 turned out to be the majority. Since then it became in reality if not avowedly, a staunch Conservative organ. Sic itur ad astra!
